When I think of MBA, (unconventionally) it's the academic environment that I think of the most. Being an Engineer, I required additional efforts to understand Finance. The institute not only provided me with abundance of opportunities including industry relevant projects but it also gave me the push to broaden my horizon of approaching situations and understanding my areas of interests which eventually helped me pursue my career in Finance. The faculty at IIM Sambalpur continue to stay reachable and help us in our ongoing professional journey. Overall, lessons learnt during MBA only gets more relevant with time. Forever grateful to that journey!

As a proud member of the inaugural PGPM batch at IIM Sambalpur, I look back at my time there as truly transformative. Joining a new IIM might have seemed like a leap into the unknown, but it turned out to be one of the most defining chapters of my life—both professionally and personally.

What set IIM Sambalpur apart was the culture of co-creation and resilience. Being part of the first batch gave us a unique opportunity to build something from the ground up—crafting traditions, shaping student initiatives, and actively collaborating with the administration to leave a lasting legacy. This spirit of entrepreneurship and adaptability has stayed with me throughout my career in cybersecurity and leadership roles.

The academic rigor, combined with practical exposure and the diversity of perspectives among peers, helped me develop critical thinking, strategic acumen, and leadership skills that continue to guide me today. I owe much of my confidence in handling high-impact global InfoSec responsibilities to the foundation laid at IIM Sambalpur.

As the institute continues to grow, I'm proud to see it producing agile, ethical, and business-ready leaders. IIM Sambalpur will always hold a special place in my journey.

Being part of the inaugural batch (2015–17) of IIM Sambalpur was both a challenge and a privilege. As a fresher with an engineering background, stepping into the world of management was a transformative experience. With everything being built from scratch—academics, systems, and culture—there was some initial apprehension. But the support of the faculty and the strong bond among batchmates made the journey incredibly rewarding. The well-rounded curriculum, enriched by case-based teaching, discussions, and group projects, bridged the gap between theory and real-world application. It equipped me to handle practical business challenges with confidence. Exposure to diverse perspectives through peer learning also enhanced my problem-solving and decision-making skills. Those two years laid a strong foundation for my corporate journey and continue to shape my professional approach.

These skills proved instrumental as I transitioned into diverse roles across private equity, business valuation, equity research, mergers & acquisitions, corporate strategy, and transaction advisory. I have had the opportunity to work across a range of industries, including pharmaceuticals, real estate, and financial services. The academic exposure at IIM Sambalpur, coupled with hands-on learning, helped me develop a problem-solving mindset and strategic perspective that I continue to rely on in my current role.
